All roads lead to first BS Infrastructure Summit

BS REPORTER
New Delhi, 20 August

Three key Union ministers will grace the first edition of The Business Standard Infrastructure Summit in New Delhi on Thursday. Minister of Road Transport & Highways Nitin Gadkari, Minister of New and Renewable Energy Pralhad Joshi and Minister of Ports, Shipping and Waterways Sarbananda Sonowal, through their interactions, are set to capture India's infrastructure scene — both opportunities and challenges.

With the theme "India Builds: For Growth & Green", the summit will bring together policymakers, industry leaders, financiers, and global experts to deliberate on the country's infrastructure roadmap for a sustainable and developed Bharat. Aiming to bring India's infrastructure success story to the fore, the premier event is being organised at the Taj Mahal Hotel here.

A carefully curated agenda would cover the whole gamut of India's infrastructure ambition.

Nitin Gadkari
Minister of Road Transport & Highways

Pralhad Joshi
Minister of New and Renewable Energy

Sarbananda Sonowal
Minister of Ports, Shipping and Waterways

The day-long event will range from funding models for Viksit Bharat to the future of energy, aviation, and logistics. The summit will host six sessions through the day on varied topics related to roads, shipping, airports, power, renewable energy and more.

The event will host some of the biggest names of the infrastructure sector including Christoph Schnellmann, CEO, Noida International Airport; Videsh Kumar Jaiswal, CEO, Delhi International Airport; Praveer Sinha, CEO and MD, Tata Power; Rahul Mithal, Chairman and Managing Director, RITES; Amit Singh, Head of Business, South Asia & Middle East, Mitsui OSK Lines (MOL); and Kapil Mahajan, CTO, Allcargo Logistics.

Some of the other leaders of the infrastructure sector to speak at the summit include Gauri Singh, Deputy Director General, International Renewable Energy Agency (IRENA); Vaishali Nigam Sinha, Co-Founder, ReNew; Prashant Choubey, President, Avarda Group; Alok Kumar, Former Secretary, Ministry of Power; Akshat Bansal, CEO & Founder, Statiq; Jagannath, CEO, Infravision Foundation; and Ramanuj Kumar, Partner, Cyril Amarchand Mangaldas.

The three ministerial sessions will be a key highlight of the day, with renewable energy minister Pralhad Joshi and shipping minister Sonowal delivering special addresses, while roads and highways minister Nitin Gadkari featuring in the closing fireside conversation on India's infrastructure vision, policies, and regulatory outlook.

The summit is expected to offer a mega platform for dialogue between the government, industry, and experts at a time when infrastructure is poised to be the backbone of India's growth story for decades to come.

Shah tables 3 Bills to remove PMs, CMs held for 30 days

Resolution passed by voice vote to refer the measures to JPC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 20 August

Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday introduced three Bills in the Lok Sabha for the removal of Prime Ministers, chief ministers and ministers arrested on serious criminal charges for 30 days, drawing fierce protests from the Opposition as the draft laws were referred to a Joint Committee of Parliament (JPC).

The three Bills are the Government of Union Territories (Amendment) Bill 2025; the Constitution (One Hundred and Thirtieth Amendment) Bill 2025; and the Jammu and Kashmir Reorganisation (Amendment) Bill 2025.

The Bills have proposed that if the prime minister, union ministers or chief ministers, are arrested and detained in custody for 30 consecutive days for offences that attract a jail term of at least five years, they will lose their job on the 31st day.

Amid repeated disruptions, Shah introduced the three Bills as a resolution was passed by a voice vote to refer the measures to a Joint Committee of Parliament comprising 24 members from Lok Sabha and 10 from Rajya Sabha.

The Committee has been mandated to submit its report to the House by the last day of the first week of the next session. The next session (Winter session) of the Parliament is likely to be convened in the third week of November.

As soon as the Bills were tabled, the Opposition members began protesting and

“NOW, THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTRY WILL HAVE TO DECIDE WHETHER IT IS APPROPRIATE FOR A MINISTER, CHIEF MINISTER OR THE PRIME MINISTER TO RUN THE GOVERNMENT WHILE IN JAIL”

Amit Shah, Union Home Minister

trooped into the well, raising slogans. Some even tore copies of the Bills in front of Shah.

Opposition MPs, including AIMIM's Asaduddin Owaisi and Congress' Manish Tewari and K C Venugopal, spoke against the introduction, terming the proposed law against the Constitution and federalism, while Shah rejected criticism that the Bills were brought in haste.

The home minister also said that the Bills will be sent to the Joint Committee of Parliament where members of both Houses, including those from the Opposition, would get an opportunity to give their suggestions.

When Venugopal raised the issue of Shah's arrest while he was the Gujarat home minister and asked about his claim of morality in politics, the senior BJP leader countered, saying he had resigned on moral grounds before his arrest and joined the government only after being discharged by the court.

"We cannot be so shameless that we continue to occupy constitutional positions while facing serious charges," Shah said.

Amid continuous noisy protests, the House was adjourned till 3 pm as Speaker Om Birla repeatedly asked the Opposition members to take their seats and maintain the dignity of the House.

Earlier in the day, as the protests escalated, there was a brief jostling between Opposition and ruling party MPs with BJP members, including Union Ministers Ramesh Singh Bittu and Kiren Rijiju, stepping in to shield Shah.

Opposing the Bills at the introduction stage, Owaisi said the Constitution is being amended to "destabilise governments".

Union Home Minister Amit Shah, after he introduced the bill, said the people of the country will have to decide whether it is appropriate for a minister, chief minister or the prime minister to run the government while in jail.

According to the Bill, there is no provision under the Government of Union Territories Act, 1963 (20 of 1963) for the removal of the chief minister or a minister arrested and detained in custody on account of serious criminal charges.

Hence, there is a need to amend section 45 of the Government of Union Territories Act, 1963, to provide a legal framework for the removal of a chief minister or a minister in such cases.

Delhi CM attacked during 'Jan Sunwai'; accused detained

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 20 August

Delhi Chief Minister Rekha Gupta was attacked during a 'Jan Sunwai' programme at her camp office in Civil Lines on Wednesday morning, her office said, terming the assault as part of a "well-planned conspiracy to kill her".

According to a senior police officer, the accused, Sakriya Rajeshbhai Khimji, a 41-year-old resident of Rajkot (Gujarat), was detained and is being questioned. The attack took place around 8.15 am, he said.

A person attacked Delhi Chief Minister Rekha Gupta during 'Jan Sunwai' today. Delhi Police has detained the accused and is questioning him. The Chief Minister's Office said in a statement.

Delhi Minister Kapil Mishra said this is not an ordinary attack, adding that the attacker tried to "push the chief minister down on the ground and beat her". The CCTV captured him during a visit to the CM's residence on Wednesday.

Rekha Gupta said the attack on her during a "Jan Sunwai" programme was a "cowardly attempt" on her resolve to serve people, and asserted that it has not broken her spirit. She stressed the Jan Sunwai programme would continue like before.

"Public hearings and the resolution of people's problems will continue with the same seriousness and commitment as before. Your trust and support are my greatest strength," she said in a post on X.

States will be at whims of govt if nod to Bills withheld: SC

BHAVINI MISHRA
New Delhi, 20 August

The Supreme Court on Wednesday said that the power of the governor to permanently withhold assent to Bills would leave the state government, which is elected with majority, at his "whims and fancies".

"Would we not be giving total powers to the governor to sit in over an appeal. The government elected with the majority will be at (the) whims and fancies of (the) governor," Chief Justice of India (CJI), Justice B R Gavai, said.

The court was hearing the maintainability of the reference made by President Droupadi Murmu under Article 143. The reference was concerning the April 8 ruling of the top court that set timelines for governors and the President to grant assent to bills passed by the legislature.

In the April 8 judgment, a bench of Justice J B Pandiwal and Justice R Mahadevan invoked its special powers under Article 143 of the Constitution to fix deadlines for the President and governors to act on state bills.

Replying to the query of the CJI, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, told the Constitution Bench of CJI B R Gavai, Justice Surya Kant, Justice Vikram Nath, Justice P S Nandimha, and Justice Anil S Chandurkar that everyone derives power from the Constitution.

On the powers of the governor under Article 200, Mehta said the governor has four options — assent to the bill, withhold assent, reserve the bill for consideration of the President or send it back to the legislature. He said that when the governor withholds assent, the bill falls through.

Article 200 of the Indian Constitution outlines the governor's powers regarding assent to bills passed by the state legislature. If a bill is returned, the legislature can pass it again with or without amendments, and the governor is then bound to give assent.

The bench, however, remarked that the governor has to communicate his or her decision and that the focal point of the debate would be whether withholding is temporary or permanent.

Mehta said the power to withhold is to be used rarely and only in the first instance, as it leads to the death of the bill.

"The governor is not just a postman. He represents the Union of India, appointed by the President. The President is elected by the entire nation by way of the entire election and that is also a way of democratic expression," Mehta said.
